Dear Jann Jakobs

I would like to complain about the pollution at Potsdam Griebnitzsee. Usually, this is a really nice and clean place. However, for the past four weeks the air quality index was at least five times between 150 and 200, thus it could be classified as "unhealthy".

Another issue is, the overfull garbage tracked at this place. As a result, there is a mountain of rubbish at the beach. The garbage will become the breeding place for maggots. Worst of all, the garbage is emitting a foul smell.

On Saturday, May 26th, 2018 I took pictures of the overfull trashcans and in addition pictures of dead fish I found at the shore. Both images are attached.

I really hope that the government will give serious attention to this problem and will take immediate action.

Yours faithfully,

Maximilian Schall
